

Notable NASA astronauts

by JEANETTE BAER SHOWALTER

This spring marks the fifty-fifth anniversary of the first human launched into space, Russia's Yuri Gagarin. Twenty years later the first space shuttle mission was launched, making this the thirty-fifth anniversary of Columbia's historic flight. Sadly, this year also marks the thirtieth anniversary of the Challenger disaster. From the early Mercury Seven to the current Space Station astronauts, many men and women have explored the "Final Frontier." You can find twenty-eight names of NASA astronauts in the puzzle below orbiting forward, backward, vertically, horizontally, and diagonally.
